

ARMISTICE TO EXPIRE DURING DAY

Question of Peace or War for Mexico Will be Settled

MAY REFUSE DEMANDS

Of Rebels to Resign as President
Diaz Favors Fighting for Rights.

Mexico City, May 6.—Whether peace or war shall be the portion of Mexico for months to come was expected to be settled definitely before the passing of the day. The armistice in Chihuahua expires today and unless a satisfactory answer is made by President Diaz to the rebels demand for his resignation, warfare in that state will be immediately resumed.

There is increasing fear that Diaz will refuse the demand of General Madero, the insurrecto leader, that he resign. An answer was looked for today but those close to the aged president say his recent actions and words have already constituted an emphatic negative reply to Madero.

"Diaz is a fighter," said Dr. Manuel Bonilla, president of Honduras, who was received today in audience by Diaz. "He told me that he didn't like the idea of being virtually forced from office by the insurrectos and that he favored fighting for what he believes to be not only his rights but the good of the Mexican people." The pessimism regarding Diaz's decision is reflected in the continued exodus of foreigners from the capital. That there will be a tremendous upheaval if Diaz continues obstinate is indicated by cries of "down with Diaz." And "Long Live Madero," which are resounding through the city with alarming frequency. Crowds of sympathizers with the revolutionists are engaging in clashes with the police, a condition of affairs that would have been considered impossible even a week ago.

The change in public feeling makes it certain that the city will be given over to rioting if Diaz remains unyielding. Students are playing a leading part in the anti-Diaz demonstrations. Word received today from Judge Francisco S. Carbajal, federal commissioner, and P. V. Gomez, insurrecto commissioner in the peace negotiations that they are becoming apprehensive over the outcome of the negotiations.

If Diaz does not give a satisfactory answer during the day, it is believed that the rebels will move against Juarez, renewing the suspended attack.

Washington, May 6.—The attitude of the United States in the Mexican situation today hinged upon the decision of Diaz in answer to Madero's demand that he resign.

The United States is now and for months has been ready to act instantaneously if invasion should be ordered by President Taft who will take such a step only in the last extremity.

The president and other high officials are greatly disturbed by the latest reports of the internal situation in Mexico and there was evidence of tenseness today through official circles.

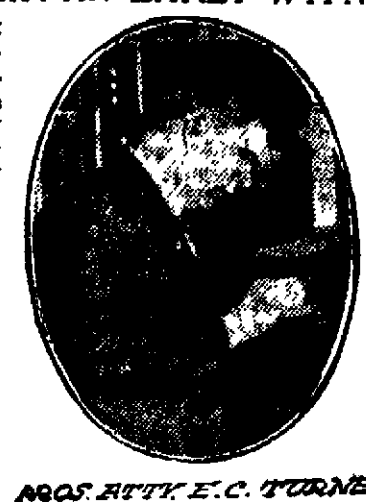

President Taft is still hopeful that peace will be established and the conference that Washington officialdom has in Foreign Minister De La Barra is an important factor. If Diaz refuses and De La Barra succeeds him pending an election, Uncle Sam will be satisfied for the present. As Mexican ambassador here De La Barra won the friendship of President Taft, Secretaries Knox and Dickinson and other high officials.

Every detail necessary for intervention, however, has been arranged as a result of the recent reports from Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City. The house committee on military affairs is in close touch with the situation. If intervention should be ordered it would be in the form of a double invasion by troops from Texas and by marines via Vera Cruz, the transports being ready at Guantamano.

FOUR MORE COPS DISMISSED.
Cleveland, May 6.—Four more patrolmen were dismissed yesterday, leaving only one of 15 who headed a revolt against golden rule Chief Frederick Kohler two weeks ago, to be tried on a charge of insubordination. All the cases will be carried to the civil service commission on appeal from the decision of Director of Safety Hogan.

JUDGE AND PROSECUTORS IN OHIO CRAFT PROBE; A. Z. BLAIR AN EARLY WITNESS.

The grand jury investigating bootlegging in the Ohio Legislature will reconvene Monday and Prosecutor Turner says more indictments against Assemblymen will probably be returned then. The six men already indicted will have trials beginning May 17.

FREE LIST BILL DISCUSSED IN CONGRESS---VOTE WILL BE TAKEN ON MONDAY

Washington, May 6.—Representative Anshery, of the Fifth Ohio district, delivered the first speech in discussion of the free list bill in the house yesterday with a vigorous speech in defense of the measure.

He pointed out that the employees engaged in the industries most highly protected received the lowest wages, while those in the non-protected industries were paid the highest wages. He cited bricklayers, carpenters, railroad employees, receiving much higher wages than men employed in mills and factories receiving a high degree of protection.

Referring to the Republican charges that the panic of 1894 was a free-trade panic, under the Cleveland administration, Mr. Anshery declared that the tariff bill which the Democrats passed in that year could not have produced that panic unless it had been retroactive, for the panic started in 1892 with the Homestead strikes, when Andrew Carnegie hired Pinkerton detectives to shoot down men who were asking for a living wage.

It was the only instance on record, he said, where a law passed two years and three months after an effect, had been charged with being its cause.

The campaign of 1892, said Mr. Anshery, was fought out on the single issue of the tariff. The McKinley act was then in full force and effect, and the people declared in favor of a revenue tariff. They were met with the argument that while it was true that the panic began several years before the Wilson tariff act was passed, still the people became so scared because they thought that they were going to get what they wanted that they precipitated the panic.

Representative Warburton, of Washington, a newly-elected Republican member of the house, announced his intention of supporting the free-list bill. He said many of the Republican criticisms of the bill were undoubtedly well founded, but others were overdrawn. He believed the bill would not do all its Democratic sponsors expected of it, but it was a step in the right direction. He urged taking of the duty off sugar.

PRESIDENT TAFT BLAMED FOR THE ALASKAN TROUBLE

Seattle Wash., May 6.—That the coal dumping parties at Cordova, Alaska, was the work of the Guggenheim syndicate and was instigated by them in an effort to force the United States government to open up the Alaska coal lands is the belief of conservationists here. They call it another attempt to force the interior department to allow the Guggenheims to grab the Alaska coal lands and bottle up Cordova bay.

J. P. Young, president of the Alaska Steamship Co., defends the coal dumpers and says that the people of Alaska are terribly wrought up over the failure of President Taft to hear their appeals. He says many people invested all they had in Alaska, believing that fuel would be easily available. He claims that the government's attitude is all nonsense and that the true facts were known to the interior department would quickly open up the lands.

MRS. RUTH E. C. TURNER

JUDGE A. Z. BLAIR, OF ADAMS COUNTY, WAS ONE OF THE FIRST WITNESSES. HE IS SUPPOSED TO HAVE TOLD OF MONEY USED TO GERRYMANDER HIS JUDICIAL DISTRICT TO REMOVE HIM FROM ADAMS COUNTY.

Speeches in favor of the free list bill were delivered by Representatives McHenry, of Pennsylvania, Hensley, of Missouri; McCoy, of New Jersey; Littlepage, of West Virginia; Dixon, of Indiana; Bartlett, of Georgia, and Clark, of Florida. Speeches against the bill were made by Representatives Wilder, of Massachusetts; Farr, of Pennsylvania; Sloan, of Nebraska, and Smith, of Michigan.

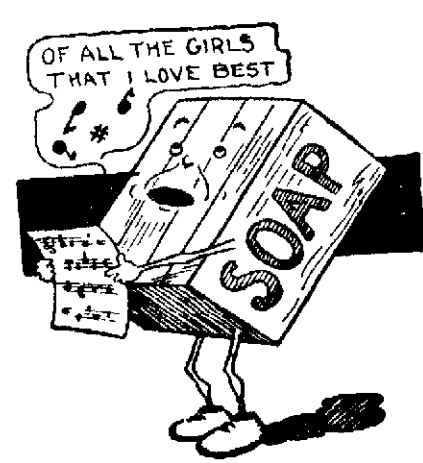

Mr. Bartlett attacked the so-called "cotton bagging trust." He said there was evidence that manufacturers of jute bagging for baling cotton were operating through an understanding equivalent to a combination.

Mr. Gillette, of Massachusetts, challenged the statement, and Mr. Bartlett cited testimony before the ways and means committee in 1900. He declared the southern farmers were discriminated against in that cotton bagging was dutiable, while binding twine was free of duty, and that southern planters had paid $5,000,000 to the alleged "bagging trust" in five years.

Recognizing that the real fight over the free list bill will come on Monday, leaders of both parties in the house yesterday issued peremptory orders to absent members to return at once to Washington. The bill will be taken up then for amendment under the five-minute debate. Efforts will be made by the Republicans to amend the bill in almost every particular. For many of the amendments Republicans are counting on scattering Democratic support. The Democratic leaders expect the measure to be adopted with little or no change.

Reduction of the wool tariff or placing wool on the free list would have no effect on the price of raw or finished wool, declared Representative Francis, of Ohio in explaining his reasons for asking a congressional inquiry into the American Wool Company. That corporation, he said, controls mills with a capitalization of $69,000,000, and prices are arbitrarily fixed by the so-called "woolen trust." Representative Francis said he was not in favor of free wool, and hoped the proposed investigation would convert his fellow Democrats, who wanted to reduce the tariff along that line.

NEW YORK WOMEN IN BIG PARADE

Suffragettes to the Number of 1500 March
Down 5th Avenue

CROWDS WERE AMUSED

But Did Not Disturb the Marchers
During the Demonstration.

New York, May 6.—Approximately 1,500 suffragettes and about 100 perfectly behaved men tramped down Fifth avenue this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in protest against the New York assembly's refusal to pass the suffrage bill.

According to Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, high priestess of the cause, the parade, the biggest thing of its kind yet attempted, "will influence the people to such an extent that the legislature will no longer be allowed to treat with indifference and even contumely the greatest question of modern times."

The skies were kind to the skirted marchers, but the crowds that lined Fifth avenue, and flowed into Union Square where the speech making was indulged in, seemed to be more amused than impressed by the demonstration. There were good natured gibes for many of the paraders and some rather coarse verbal assaults upon the trousered section of the parade.

Had it not been for the foresight of the police in supplying an ample guard it is probable that the ebullient spirits of the onlookers would have reached the point of actual interference.

Many of the women carried camp stools on which they sat while waiting for the parade to come along. All the various professions in which women are prominent were classified in the parade and there were numerous floats to show that women really are a necessity in this world. The parade was headed by a company of scotch pipers and in the forefront were the college of equal suffrage league and the women's political union representatives. Mrs. Blatch graced this section.

Then came dressmakers, milliners, laundresses and hair dressers, artists models (but not in their working draperies), actresses (with a special request that they be mentioned individually), decorators, musicians, newspaper women, women farmers from Mrs. Belmont's cute little farm and a varied assortment from many other lines of work.

From those of meager weekly wage to multimillionaires Mrs. Belmont, they ranged. Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton and Miss Annie Peck, famous mountain climber, Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, and scores of other notables were in the line-up.

The biggest banner in evidence bore this inscription: "We prepare the children for the world, let us prepare the world for the children." This was carried by Miss Inez Millholland, and Miss Fullerton.

GEORGE "CAME BACK"
Columbus, May 6.—George W. Gaskill of Guernsey county celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of his release from the penitentiary by returning to the institution to serve a term of one year for larceny. Just 23 years ago Gaskill was released, after serving a term of four years for pocket picking.

ALIBI WILL BE DEFENSE

Los Angeles, May 6.—A multitude of alibis will be the defense of Jas. McNamara when he is tried on the charge of blowing up the Times building. The attorneys for the defense are bending every effort to show it would have been impossible for James McNamara to have been within 12 miles of the Times office when it was blown up. The Burns detectives are trying to get evidence to prove the contrary. They are keeping a close watch on witnesses supposed to have seen the McNamaras on the night of or immediately after the explosion. The new indictments against the men are expected this afternoon.

MURDER MYSTERY ON FARM IN INDIANA: FARMER CONFESSES AND SON FINDS BODY

JOHN POOLE

EMORY POOLE

Fowler, Ind., has a murder mystery which may develop sensations. Joseph Kemper, a farm hand, disappeared last December. Elmer Poole, son of John Poole, wealthy farmer, found a dismembered body in a shallow grave on his father's farm that proved to be Kemper's. John Poole was arrested and confessed that he accidentally killed Kemper. He says he feared public sentiment and dismembered and buried the body. Search is being made for other bodies which some think may be on the farm.

THE EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY BILL IN CONFERENCE

Columbus, O. May 6.—Representatives of the manufacturing interests in Ohio are openly expressing their disapproval with the personnel of the joint committee of conference appointed to adjust the matter of differences between the senate and the House of Representatives upon the Green workmen's compensation bill. Their sentiment is based upon the fact that no pronounced supporter of their views has been given a place on the House committee.

Of the three members Representative F. S. Kimble of Adams is a lawyer, John H. Lowry of Henry is a farmer, and Milo Cathan of Stark is a workman. Lowry voted against the bill because those engaged in agricultural pursuits were not excepted in the Senate yesterday. Lieutenant Governor Hugh Nichols named as conferees Senator William Green, the author of the bill; Senator Herman Dittmer of Henry, also a lawyer, and Senator Frederick Bader of Cincinnati, who is a cigar manufacturer.

It will be seen that two of the joint committee are from Henry county, an agricultural halliwick. Attorney General Hogan has rendered an opinion that there can be no exemption made specifically of any form of occupation, to do so being to vitiate the bill completely. Senator Bader is the only member from a large city.

Under parliamentary law, when the committee of conference makes its report to the two separate branches, the only question permissible is whether the findings shall be accepted or rejected. No amendments can be offered. If rejection is decided upon another committee may be appointed. The last chance, perhaps, of the manufacturers to obtain satisfactory changes, lies in the action of the committee named, which will not meet until Monday or Tuesday next.

YOUNG BOYS ARRESTED ON GRAVE CHARGE

Harold Kilmouth, age 12, of 111 Cedar street, William McNary, age 14, of 199 Lawrence street and William Mott, age 12, of 216 Boylston street, were arrested by Officers Abbott, Harbaugh and Stewart this morning at their respective homes and taken to the police station. It is charged that the three young boys were guilty of entering a stand at Turkey Lake Thursday night occupied by Harry Marple and stealing three revolvers and three disks. Officer Abbott secured information implicating the lads and rounded them up this morning at 6 o'clock.

Ray Smoots of Gay street was taken into custody, it being charged that he took one of the revolvers away from McNary. The latter is said to have done the work of forcing an entry to the building, while his companions watched him from the outside.

APPOINTED JOHNSTOWN SOLICITOR

Attorney J. R. Fitzgibbon of the law firm of Fitzgibbon & Montcomney has been appointed by the council of Johnstown, a village solicitor. The position of solicitor at Johnstown is a very responsible one, as Johnstown is one of the best towns in the county from a business point of view. Mr. Fitzgibbon will guard safely the best interests of the place.

PUSHING BRIBERY INQUIRY

Prosecutor Turner Will Ask Legislature for Financial Aid

BRACING THE SUSPECTS

Has Begun and They are Promised Unlimited Backing by Those Interested.

Columbus, May 6.—Stiffening of the lines of the defense in the bribery investigation is becoming apparent. There are indications that there has been a coming together of jeopardized interests for a common front against the enemy as represented by the state.

It is explained by the remark of the public prosecutor, Edward Turner, as he dismissed the grand jury, that the surface had been merely scratched. Men outside the general assembly who have been involved in this disreputable business, realizing what a merciless probe means to them, are getting ready to block it if possible, and, if not, to minimize its effects. They are using old and familiar tactics.

Already incriminated and suspected persons are being braced up with the promise of unlimited and strenuous backing. Retainers are being offered to influential attorneys as much for their political power as their legal ability.

One of these today admitted that he had been invited into the case, but said that he declined because criminal law is not his line.

It was admitted by the officers of justice and others interested that certain men who were wanted as witnesses had suddenly disappeared. Their names and habitations are known, and their movements hereafter will be watched. Stories are blown about that the prosecution had reached the point where it can go no further and that there will be no more indictments.

It is also told for effect that a rupture has taken place between Prosecuting Attorney Turner and Detective William J. Burns, the sleuth leaving the city because he was not permitted to handle the case in his own way.

The answer to these patently and purposely deceptive stories is the fact that the prosecuting attorney dispatched agents to distant cities to consult persons having valuable information, and that a large number of subpoenas are ready to be sent out.

In addition, for the past 48 hours he has met a number of members of the general assembly, whose names have been suppressed, designedly, and has received confidences at their hands which he says are extremely important. The three Burns agents, Harrison, Bailey and Berry, are acting in conjunction with the officers attached to the prosecutor's office, and the chief of the department authorizes the statement that there is perfect harmony with Mr. Burns.

No secret is made at the court house that the prosecution will have to face the power of a "slush" fund raised to defeat the ends of justice, and preparations were this afternoon made to checkmate it. Attorney General Hogan and Prosecuting Attorney Turner joined in a letter to Governor Harmon requesting him to call upon the general assembly to appropriate $7,500 for their use in investigating clues and defraying the expense of collecting testimony.

As a result there will be a joint resolution offered next Monday in both houses of the assembly authorizing this appropriation. Under the new law the detective attached to the prosecutor's office will have a secret service fund of one half the chief's salary, but there is no provision in the act for additional allowances by the county commissioners. As this inquiry is practically in the name of the state and involves the honor of the commonwealth, it is agreed that the state should bear part of the burden that otherwise will fall upon Franklin county alone.

The angered and aroused members of the association which launched this attack upon objectionable conditions have been told of this new condition and have sent word that they stand ready to do their part in carrying the warfare to a successful conclusion by further contributions to an expense fund. In the fight, therefore, dollar will meet dollar.

JUROR ADRIAN IS IMPROVING AT HOSPITAL

Juror George Adrian, whose illness caused the postponement of the Quincy Suttley trial, is resting comfortably at the hospital where he was removed Friday. He is able to be about, but is under the watchful care of the hospital attendants. Emmett Forgraves was named by the court as special bailiff to look after the man while confined in the hospital.

The remaining members of the panel, eleven in number, are quartered as usual at the Sherwood hotel and are all in good health and spirits. Saturday morning Bailiff Legge took the men out for their morning exercise and walked with them to Mt. Calvary cemetery south of the city. The walk in the crisp morning air was much enjoyed by the jurors.

NEWARK BOY KILLED IN COLUMBUS

Alva Kneer, a 16-year-old boy of this city, son of Frank Kneer of South Cedar street, was found dead in Columbus Wednesday and his body was identified Saturday morning by his father. It will be brought to Newark Saturday afternoon for burial.

Young Kneer, who is employed at the Helsey factory, left home Tuesday morning to see the circus parade and attended the performance in the evening. He was not seen by any of his acquaintances after that time.

Friends knowing of his disappearance noticed an item in a Columbus paper telling of the finding of the body of an unidentified boy. The father's attention was called to the item and he made a trip to Columbus Saturday morning which resulted in the identification of the body.

Young Kneer was well liked by his associates and was regarded by his employers as an exemplary young man. His death will cause universal regret among his associates.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SCALP DISEASE

Hair Came Out in Patches. Goodhair Soap Brought Prompt Relief.

"I have had Eczema on my scalp for twenty years. Have doctored with every kind of doctor, but with no permanent good results. The first time I used Goodhair Soap my hair came out in patches as large as a silver half dollar. I was scared and thought I wouldn't have any hair left. I continued to use the soap. I was told it was the dead hairs that had come away. I continued to use the soap, and now, after three months, all those bald spots are covered with a good growth. My hair is better than ever. I have no Eczema, and my scalp never itches."

Yours respectfully,

BUTTER-KRUST

THAT AWFUL SPRINGFIELD NIGHTMARE

Newark lost yesterday's game and without any effort to excuse the team for the loss of the game, be it said that they were robbed of it.
It is always distasteful to the fans to have such excuses flaunted before them when the team is losing. It is like rubbing a cat's fur the wrong way. But in fairness to the team, not excusing the team's errors, understand, it is right that the loss of the game should be explained.

Owner Harry Kiene in a letter to the Advocate states that with two men out in the ninth inning, a ball was hit to Platter who threw wild to first, the ball going to the fence, a runner scoring from second.

The ground rules prevailing provided for the runner to advance one base on an overthrow. The umpire, our old friend Nel Mason, either did not understand the ground rule or ignored it entirely and allowed the run to count. The game was protested and the Newark management will fight it out with the league officials.

Kiene's statements regarding the ground rules and the details of the play on which the game was lost, are corroborated by a letter from the Advocate's correspondent, a sporting editor of that city.
In all probability Newark would have lost the game anyway. Platter weakened in the ninth, a triple and two hits besides Platter's fluke, being sufficient to shove the game into easy street.

PARAGRAPHS ABOUT GAME OF THURSDAY

The fans got on Kendall yesterday afternoon because he failed to get under a long one sent into his garden by Blue, but they were all up and pulling for the Harvesters before the game was over.

Owner Harry Kiene is with the Newark team taking in the circuit. He was so nervous in the game yesterday that he could not sit still. He is a fine manager and the players all think he is the grandest in the world.

In the game at Lima yesterday Hinte, center gardner for the Cigarmakers knocked the ball over the right field fence with three men on bases. Wonder if Manager Newnam of the Newark bunch is feeling blue that he let him go.

Harry R. Wiley, of Zanesville, Central League team joined the team here yesterday morning. He played center field and received a cut lip when Nally hit a liner his way in the tenth and the ball took a bad bound, hitting him in the mouth.

Springfield, O., May 6.—After the fans had all given up hopes of winning the game yesterday afternoon, the Harvesters came back strong in the last part of the ninth inning and by some old time hitting won the game from the Molders by the score of 5 to 4. Up until that time the chances were about a five to one shot on the visitors and some of the bugs started with their little hammers and the sound of the devil chorus could be heard in bleachers row.

But with only a few minutes more to play and after the visitors had gone out in order, the rail birds all began to start in with their merry din and then it was that Pitcher Platter, the big Texas recruit weakened and took an awful drubbing. Kiene tripped with a long shot into center field while the two gardeners played the Alfonso and Gaston act, as to which one would pick up the pill.

Poley then singled to left field and Kiene crossed the plate. Connell hit a slow one to Walker and was allowed a hit as there was no one to cover the initial sack. Then Hix, the local lad playing in right field sacrificed both runners and was out by the Walker-Prysock route. Nally, who did not know what a hit was until that time then sent a long one into center field and Poley crossed the plate with the winning run. If another one was needed, it would have been forthcoming right there, while the oval was being relayed in the diamond.

There was plenty of amusement for the spectators as the visitors had some awful wobbles that were costly, allowing two Harvesters to reach first base in safety, and to score later. But the wobbles were not the only amusing features, as the Harvesters took some long chances and were caught between bags. In this way the locals were robbed of a couple of runs.

Hixon pitched his first game of the season for the Harvesters, but he was not working right, although he kept the hits scattered. In the second inning he sent a fast inshoot that caught Wiley on the head and he was laid out for some time, the game being called and ice water used liberally. He also allowed a base on balls that counted in the run column. Nally was hurt at second in the third inning when he made a dash into Manager Newnam's knee while trying to get back to the ball way stop.

In the eighth inning there was a kick when Nally came home from second and base on an overthrow to first base by Platter, but it was not allowed by Hix. Hix, Mr. Mason, who took the place of Hix, the latter being hurt in Tuesday's game. According to a ruling only one base was allowed, and on this ground, Owner Kiene, who is here with his team will protest the game and it may have to be played over again.

In the second inning Wiley, the first man up for the Molders, was hit on the head, and getting nervous, Hixon walked Harold. Prysock sacrificed both men and was out from Hixon to Keene. Then McKee let one get by him and Wiley scored the first run. Walker struck out and Blue went out by the Hixon-Keene route.

McKee opened the last half by hitting to right and Hixon sacrificed him to second, but was safe when Prysock failed to cover first base. Although Platter heaved right over the bag, the ball going to the outfield and both men advanced a base. Keene hit to Newnam, who caught Hixon at third base. On the next one pitched Keene went to second and Blue drew McKee off the bag on a short throw to Newnam and "Red" was run down between third and home. Foley ended by skying to Baggan.

With one out in the third, Baggan was hit in the ribs and Newnam reached first when Nally failed to get a slow one that went through his legs. On purpose Rudolph was walked to fill up the bases and take a chance. Wiley hit to Hixon and Baggan was forced at home. Harold singled to center and Newnam and Rudolph scored.

The Harvesters annexed one in the fifth and a fast double robbed them of a couple more. Hixon was safe at first when Rudolph in right lost the ball in ham booted the ball and Foley walked. With the sacks all full, Connell hit to the pitcher and back to Blue to Walker for a double. Hixon and Connell being retired, Hix then singled to left and Keene scored, but Foley was caught at the plate by a pretty throw, and the side was retired.

There was no more fireworks until the eighth when the Molders made another run. Prysock started off with a single to center and Walker was out from McKee to Keene. Blue singled to center and Prysock scored. In the last half, after Connolly and Hix had struck out, Nally was hit and Kendall reached first, because there was no one to cover the bag, the ball going to the fence, and Nally scoring on the play. There was some kick, but his ump has a deaf ear to all the Molders' pleadings. O'Day hit a slasher to right and Kendall came home. In the last half of the ninth the game was won. The score:

THE GIRL QUESTION.
The girl who works for a physical senses as delicate as your own. When her hands are red, cracked and sore they pain her as much as yours would pain you. If you want to keep her, you should make the kitchen and its work as pleasant as possible.

Try a cake of Hewitt's Easy Task soap. It's as good for the dishes as it is for the fingers, and won't hurt the hands. Costs five cents and will encourage the girl more than a dollar added to her wages.

NEW PLAYER IN TODAY'S GAME AT SPRINGFIELD

(Special to Advocate.)

Springfield, O., May 6.—Herman Nye, a local player, who was given a try-out by the Terre Haute Central League team, will be given a trial in the game this afternoon by Manager Newnam. He is a fast man and a good hitter and may take the place of Walker at first base.

SHORT SPORT

A Grand Rapids correspondent speaks of an "audience" at a ball game in that city yesterday. We take it that Grand Rapids people go to the game to hear the players and umpire wrangle.

Yes, dear Maude, the Drake who batted for the Detroit team in a game there Sunday against Cleveland, was our own Ducky Drake, christened by the minister, Delos D. Drake.

Billy Thomas, the Hamilton outfielder is the old Youngstown player. Newark fans will be glad to see him come more in Newark even if he does come with the enemy.

A Newark fan writes the sporting editor of this paper and says that local bugs do not want to see the 1907 season repeated. He says that none of us want the Newark team to "sell" its chance to win a pennant. Not wishing to raise that obnoxious question from its resting place, the active herewith agrees with that portion of the fan's protest. However, at the present, that fear need not be entertained and we must figure on escaping the ignominy of the cellar championship.

A Washington doctor told the Mothers' Congress in session there that all children were liars and thieves until taught better. The writers in the southern part of the circuit claim that the early education of some of the Ohio State league umpires was sadly neglected.

Most of the games the Molders have lost since leaving Portsmouth, have gone by the "hard luck" route. That kind costs just as much in the percentage column as the other kind.

Lots of talk is heard hereabouts about the "boneheaded" luck of the Lancaster team. It may be of that brand. The Lancaster bunch may be "sand-lotters" and any of the other belittling epithets applied to them. They are hitting the ball and winning games. That is the kind of a team to have.

Frank Locke, formerly of Newark, is playing on the Hamilton team.

Hamilton papers state that Harry Kiene released Vospering. This is probably Vosburg, for he has been released.

Newark's game with Hamilton, Wednesday was the shortest played there this season. It went 1 hour and 27 minutes.

Some of the scribblers think Harry Kiene is a nervous soul. One of them remarks that he won't have a nerve left by the time the season closes.

A Hamilton writer pronounces Walker, Newark's first sacker, the best seen there yet this season.

Pitcher Cooperlender, a ministerial student, has joined the Chillicothe club. He won't play Sunday ball.

BENCH SHOW WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Newark exhibitors again waded into the prizes at the Kennel show last night when the judging of the valuable dogs was continued. Vast crowds watched the scoring by the judges, an interesting feature of the exhibition.
The work of scoring the dogs will be completed today and the exhibit will continue tonight, closing at 10 o'clock. None of the dogs will be removed from the show rooms before that hour and most of them will remain until Sunday.
This will be the last opportunity to see the show and there promises to be a bigger attendance tonight than ever. Friday afternoon nearly two thousand school children were the guests of the management and enjoyed the exhibit immensely.

It seems that to make both ends meet requires no end of money.

Many a spinster feels that she can husband her resources without the aid of a husband.

In spite of the size of his trunk the elephant hasn't such an elaborate wardrobe as the peacock.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.
Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W., Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full directions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

ROAD NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a Petition will be presented to the County Commissioners of Licking County, Ohio, at their next regular session in June, 1911, for the alteration of a County Road on the following line, to-wit:

Beginning in the center of the road running east from St. Louisville, Ohio, in Newton Township, Licking County, at a point near a stump on the south side of said road at the foot of the Brickyard hill running in an easterly course, through the lands of M. J. and L. E. Lock about five rods south of the present location of the old road, to a point near a wild cherry tree at the foot of the hill about .9 rods more or less, east of the place of beginning and connecting with the road as now located.

Dated May 4th, 1911.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Mrs. J. S. Kuster very pleasantly entertained the members of the Proctor club at her home in Clinton street on Thursday afternoon. Following the program a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. George Williams of Seventh street entertained in a most pleasant way on Thursday evening the judges and out of the city members of the kennel associations here in attendance at the dog show. Cards and music were provided for the entertainment.

Miss Lula Deming of Buckingham street is entertaining a number of friends with an afternoon party today.

The wedding of Miss Claire Wright, daughter of Federal Judge Wright of Washington and Mr. Arthur Kite of this evening. Miss Wright is the niece of Mrs. Edwin Besuden of this city and has on many occasions been a guest at the Besuden home. Among the bridesmaids will be Misses Annette and Juliette Besuden.

Mrs. Joseph Evans delightfully entertained the Harmonious club on the club day at her home in the Union block. The prizes were received by Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. Oglesby after which a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. W. E. Burton entertained the Colonial Sewing circle at her home in Woods avenue Friday afternoon. The time was devoted to needle work and a general good time after which lunch was served to the following members: Mrs. Danks, Mrs. Frankenberg, Mrs. Sholtz, Mrs. Ledderer, Mrs. McNeely, Mrs. Burton's guests were Mrs. Clem Coffman and Mrs. Samuel Morrison. The next meeting will be with Mrs. McNeely in North street, May 19.

The Knights Templar Commandery No. 63 of this city entertained their wives with a delightful reception Wednesday evening at the Masonic Temple. The affair was delightfully informal and is a prelude to a much larger affair to be given by the local commandery to the Newark and Ulrichsville commanderies at a later date. A musical program was entertained.

joyed. Assisting in the numbers were Mrs. B. F. Voorhees, Mr. Koeller, Charles Smith, E. A. Dawson, Oscar Bowen, Prof. C. E. Bryant, Mrs. Harley Talmadge. Judge Frank Ashman gave an excellent discourse during the evening. A four course supper was served to the hundred guests in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long of Newark were among the guests. — Coshocton Times.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Goode celebrated their wedding anniversary at their home in Central avenue Saturday. The evening was spent in music and social games and at a late hour they all partook of an elaborate two course luncheon.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Penick, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Baughman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Arch, Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Tavener, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. McKean, Mr. and Mrs. George Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Call, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Goode, Mrs. S. L. Courson, Mrs. A. C. Moore, Mrs. B. L. Courson, Mrs. Nettie Snelling, and the Misses Minnie Beck, Annie and Jessie Underwood, Mildred Hanover, Zoma Tavener, Nellie McKean, Mary Coman, Viola Gilmore, and Messrs. Lima and Ellis Snelling, George Viri and Phillip Goode, Floyd Gilmore.

A number of the Granville ladies were entertained most charmingly this afternoon by the members of the Chi Psi Delta sorority, at their handsome little chapter house.

Miss Elizabeth Felix and Mrs. T. E. Brown entertained in a most charming manner Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Brown in West Main street. Their guests were the members of the "Cup of Cold Water" Circle of The King's Daughters of Granville, and the "What-so-ever" circle of this city. The rooms were artistically decorated with huge bowls of violets carrying out the color of the order. The same color was used in the table appointments.

The Wednesday Afternoon Thimble club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Shaw in Penny avenue on the afternoon of Friday May 12.

Dean Loveridge of Shepardson College, and Miss Jane Irwin, head of the Domestic Science Department of Denison University, entertained a large number of their friends in Domestic Science hall at noon today at dinner. Those present had a most enjoyable time.

Miss Lillian Denelsbeck of North Fourth street entertained the members of the San Sule Euchre club Friday evening. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Stewart, Nellie French, Clara Somers, Essie Hand, Ann, Hinger, May Ayers, Clara Copeland, and Lillian Denelsbeck. The guests of the club were Miss Anna Denelsbeck and Miss Lillian Baker of Sandusky.

The Harmonious club met at the home of Mrs. Joe Evans in the Union block on the regular club day. The afternoon was spent in sewing and also a contest. Mrs. Bowers winning the club prize and Mrs. Oglesbee the guest's prize, after which a delicious luncheon was served the members and guests. Mrs. Ernest Wright, Mrs. Jesse Oglesbee and Miss Weller of Blanchester, O. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Graef on Wyoming street.

Mrs. Charles W. Miller wishes to invite her friends through the columns of this paper to a farewell tea at her home in Hudson avenue Friday afternoon and evening, May 12. Mrs. Miller and daughter Corinne leave about June first to join Mr. Miller who is located in Mankato, Minn., and where they will make their future home. Their son Roderic leaves this evening to be with his father.

Mrs. H. L. Maddocks was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Sewing club on Friday afternoon at her home in West Church street. The afternoon hours were devoted to needlework and a delicious luncheon was served. The guests of the club were Mrs. W. W. Neal and Miss Mary Neal.

Another American girl, and, better still, one who has received her musical education in this country, has made a promising operatic debut. The newcomer is Miss Louise Barnolt, known in private life as Mrs. L. G. Coate of New York City, formerly of Minneapolis. She was engaged by Director Albert Jeanette for the new Montreal Grand Opera company last summer without even a hearing. Miss Barnolt made her debut as Malika in "Lakme" on November 1, with gratifying results, following it up the next week as Beppe, the strolling musician, in Mascagni's "L'Amico Fritz." She will appear as contralto in the Granville Musical Festival, May 18-19.

The engagement of Miss Florence Stirling Moore, daughter of Mr. W. B. Moore, 295 East Seventeenth avenue, to Mr. Francis Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davies, 380 Kellogg avenue, has been announced. The marriage is to be celebrated May 24, in the new home of the bride and bridegroom, 458 Vermont place. Miss Moore is a niece of Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Hugh L. Shols, and has been employed as a secretary to her uncle since he came to Columbus two months ago. She is a graduate of North High school and a member of Phi Beta Psi sorority. A party in honor of the bride-elect was given last evening at the home of Mrs. J. Edward Jones, Jr., 329 Wilbur avenue, a sorority sister of Miss Moore. The guests were dressed as children, half the number appeared in Buster Brown suits and the other half wore little girls' frocks. — Columbus Dispatch.

The engagement announcement will interest a number of Newark friends and among those present at the home party was Miss Marguerite Platto of this city.

The wedding of Miss Anna Frad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Frad of North Fourth street, and Mr. Sam L. Segal of Chillicothe will be solemnized at the bride's home on June 4.

Mrs. L. O. Pound most delightfully entertained the Thursday Afternoon Sewing club, on the club day at her home in Riley street. The hours were spent with needlework and a dainty luncheon was served the following members: Mrs. Harry Collins, Mrs. Frank Farmer, Mrs. Lee Bratten, Mrs. Ostella, Mrs. John Hurrell, Mrs. Clark Provin, and Mrs. Preece.

Kidney Omelet. Split the kidneys with a sharp knife, cut out and discard the core and chop fine. Heat one tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan, add the chopped kidneys and stir until quickly and well browned, then add to the omelet.

Calf's Brains Sauté. Drop a calf's brain in cold water, changing until the brain is well blanched, then transfer to a sauce pan with boiling water to cover, adding a half teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of vinegar and half of a bay leaf. Simmer for ten minutes, drain in a bowl of cold water, then set away until needed. It is to be cut in rather thick slices and sautéed quickly in butter in the chafing dish until brown, adding, at the last, a little tomato catsup or a few drops of Worcestershire.

KNABE BROS. CO.

Announces its incorporation under the laws of the State of Ohio, with its principal office in the City of Cincinnati.

The Company will immediately commence the manufacture of AN ART-PRODUCT to be known as THE KNABE BROS.-CO. PIANO which will be ready for distribution in six months time. Mr. E. J. Knabe, Jr., president, and William Knabe, vice president and treasurer, will have active charge of the affairs of the company. This company has no connection or interest whatever in the Wm. Knabe & Co. Manufacturing Company of Baltimore, the "manufacturers" of the well known "KNABE" which latter company was absorbed in 1908 and is now owned by the American Piano Company.

Mr. A. L. Rawlings, the well known Newark piano dealer, is a stockholder and a director in the Knabe Bros. Co. and his official connection with this large piano factory enables him to buy and to sell the high grade pianos made in this factory at rockbottom prices and upon the most favorable terms. When you think of pianos think of Rawlings. At the Rawlings store you will always get splendid values, honest and the most courteous treatment.

OBITUARY

JACOB HOENIG.

Jacob Hoenig, aged 70 years, died in a hospital in Milwaukee, on Friday evening. He has been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. William Garden. Mr. Hoenig was a former resident of the Newark, while here being in the employ of the B. & O. railroad and making his home in Valandigham street.

The body will be brought to Newark and the funeral will be held at the home of his niece, Mrs. Henry J. Johns, 221 West Main street, but the time for the services has not yet been named.

Mr. Hoenig was just ill a week at the hospital before death resulted.

DIPHTHERIA AT BOYS' SCHOOL. Lancaster, May 6.—Thursday was the regular monthly visitors' day at the Boys' Industrial School, but no one was allowed to enter the grounds on account of a number of cases of diphtheria there. The buildings have been fumigated and it is now thought afraid of the disease has been checked.

THE EFFECTS OF CONSTIPATION

This miserable condition is produced by an inactive liver failing to perform its natural duty. The poisons of the body are thrown off through the bowels, and when the liver stops its work the system absorbs these poisons. Rheumatism, jaundice, gout, biliousness, and a hundred other ill results. Keep the liver in condition not by harsh treatment, but by Dr. Read's famous Liver Pills, which act in connection with nature and are soothing and healing, affording instant relief. Used for 25 years and has not failed. In 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles by mail, or send 5c to cover postage for sample bottle. Address L. F. WELLYN, 1410 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Making Melody of Life.

THE air is full of melody these spring days, and the world full of beauty. Birds, in their songs, are voicing the joy of life, and flowers are everywhere starting the grass with loveliness. And yet with the life of nature everywhere joyous and beautiful, the life of man, the crown of nature, so to speak, is often awry and discordant. In many cases, it lacks all beauty, all song. It is positive discord.

Why is this? Surely there is nothing in the world so wonderful as this gift of life, nothing so capable of exquisite music, of marvelous beauty. Yet in how many lives is there the wonderful song or the flawless beauty? Why do so many of us make discord? Why do we mar the perfection?

Have you often heard some one playing a cornet? High and sweet and clear the melody rises, and your whole being thrills to the sweetness of it. Then suddenly the player strikes a wrong note and there is discord. Beauty flees. Joy in the music is gone.

Yet the instrument is just as perfect as ever. The melody is there to be played. The essentials have not changed. The trouble is all with the player.

It is so with life. Life is not a misfortune as some believe. It is not pain and unhappiness and discord as so many seem to think. The beauty and the melody are always in it. If discord comes, the fault is with us who have misused the instrument. It is not with the instrument.

But how can we play the instrument right? Even with the best intentions and the utmost effort, we make discord. We strike the wrong key. Sometimes wilfully, sometimes unintentionally. But strike it we do and all is jangling discord. Is there no guide?

It would seem impossible that one could live life without making some mistakes. But life is not intended to be lived this way. Our existence on this planet is intended to be happy and beautiful. The infinite mind that made all good and of which we are a part never intended discord and wretchedness. We try, many of us, to make as few mistakes as possible, not to strike the wrong note any oftener than we can help. But with all our trying, we are far from successful. Why?

Is it not because we get away from the keynote of it all, love? Not sentimental love, not selfish love, but the pure, true love that would do good to all. If we would keep this for our guide, if we would use it for our standard, every time we are in trouble, would we not strike the right note oftener? Would there not be more music, more beauty, in our lives? Would not our life here be the happy joyous experience it is intended to be?

A girl of seventeen writes that she loves a young man, but that her parents want her to marry some one else, and that she thinks she and her lover will run away and be married. What do I advise?

That girl is in great danger of making terrible discord of her whole life. Not that her parents may be right. Parents are sometimes wrong. But the bitter tone of her letter shows she is not trying to solve the problem in the right spirit.

Suppose she lets love rule, not love of self which is now mastering her, but love that will do no harm to anyone. Suppose her parents let love rule them in the same way. Then these parties, now bitter and obstinate and at odds, can get together. If love rules her, she will listen calmly to what her parents say; she will judge impartially, not hot-headedly. She will be able to see whether they are in the right in their objections to her lover. On the other hand, if love rules them, they will be willing to listen to the daughter's side. Love, real love, for the good of the other will smooth out all these tangles. It will bring peace out of the discord. And this girl's life may go forward joyously and happily. The trouble is we so often shut this all out by our prejudices and opinions. We do not keep an open mind. Love in its great, universal meaning we shut out, and without it to guide us in solving our problems, we make mistakes.

But happily, even our mistakes do not alter the fact that the right is still there. The instrument of life is still true. It never changes. We may play it right after awhile. But the pity is that we do not play it right all the time, that we should through misapprehension of the true meaning of life, through short-sightedness, strike false notes.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of woman. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this well-known remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drug. It is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

The Ten Commandments And Some Legislators

(Philadelphia Record.)

The report that the original Ten Commandments have been discovered beneath the Mosque of Omar which replaced the Temple, will not disturb the egomaniacs of the grafters in the Ohio legislature who have just been indicted, or the vote sellers in the Illinois legislature upon whose warm trail the Helm committee is now camping. The Ten Commandments, regarded as antiquities, would have great interest for a collector like J. Pierpont Morgan, but for the ordinary crook or the predatory politician the only thing that has any terror is the enforcement of the Decalogue through the usual prosecuting machinery. It is, however, rather striking that the discovery of the tables of stone is rumored just at the moment when the Church of England is contemplating the revision of the Ten Commandments.

If Parisian Sage does not cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching of the scalp in two weeks, Evans' drug store will give you your money back.

Can any offer be fairer than this? Is there any intelligent man or woman in this city troubled with dandruff who can afford not to accept this offer?

Parisian Sage is not a nostrum; it is the scientific preparation of one of the world's greatest dermatologists. It will grow hair, it will cure dandruff, it will stop falling hair. It will make the scalp clean and white and free it from any disease.

It is the most marvelous and efficient hair dressing known. It will turn harsh, lustreless and uncontrollable hair into soft, lustrous and fascinating hair in a few days. It is the favorite hair dressing of thousands of American women, who realize that no woman can be handsome without beautiful hair.

A large bottle costs 50 cents at Evans' drug store and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair on every package.

LODGE NEWS

Knights of Pythias.

Newark Lodge No. 13 met in regular session last Thursday evening. The Esquire rank was conferred on one candidate. Remember the date of the past chancellors' meeting, May 9, at Zanesville, all Knights cordially invited, meeting called to order at 7 o'clock p. m.

Ben Hur.

Alpha Court No. 51 met in regular session April 8. Three names were received and elected to membership. The next meeting will be Monday evening, May 8, and it will be our regular dance night, and we expect our new deputy to be present. All the members are urged to come and enjoy a social time. Come and help us plan for an increase in our membership.

I. O. O. F.

Olive Branch Lodge held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, May 2. Next Monday evening the third degree will be conferred in Newark lodge. All candidates of Olive Branch lodge wishing third degree present themselves. All Olive Branch members turn out on Monday night and help confer this degree. There will also be a regular meeting Tuesday evening, May 9. Visiting brothers always welcome.

Jr. O. U. A. M.

All members of Licking Council No. 90 Jr. O. U. A. M. are urged to attend the next regular meeting to be held in the O. R. C. hall on Wednesday evening, May 10. Some very important business is to be transacted, and all members will be very much interested in this meeting in regards to the "New Moser Hall," which we shall soon occupy, and some suggestions are wanted from some of the brothers that have not been attending regularly, as we desire that one and all be satisfied with our different movements.

Bring in your applications for new members now, and learn State Council Brother Clark's proposition, as well as his own personal reward to be members bringing in the most applications for new members.

The meeting was a pronounced success last meeting night, and we wish that the next be even better.

PRESS COMMITTEE.

Cedar Camp No. 4727 M. W. of A. met in regular session on Monday night. Five applications were received and elected. The escort received and four in waiting. S. H. Leary, H. C. Headley, J. J. McElwain, E. George, Geo. L. Keyes, R. J. Jeffers, J. W. McCreary, Eugene Conner, Grover Burkholder, C. E. Sulke and Chas. Crooks for beneficial and M. J. Reese for social membership who were adopted as members. A large attendance of members from visiting camps were present, it being a county class adoption for Licking county. The committee on Mothers' Day, which will be observed by Cedar Camp on next Sunday evening, May 7, requested that all neighbors assemble at the hall at 1:30 p. m. to march to the church in a body. The services will be held at the Fifth Street Baptist church and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Joseph A. Bennett, who is a member of Cedar Camp. Each neighbor is also requested to wear a white carnation on that night. All neighbors, their wives and friends are cordially invited to attend this service. After the work was over, Monday night's meeting all retired to the banquet room and partook of ice cream and cake. At next Monday night's meeting there will be candidates to receive the work.

Woman's Relief Corps.

In the relic room of G. A. R. hall may be seen a reminder of a "thoughtful and devoted sister to the wants of her brother during the Civil war," a "housewife" which he carried through the war. Who can fathom the depth of tender and loving thoughts of this dear sister when fashioning this article of comfort for her brother who had volunteered his services to defend his country's flag? Ewing Thrapp enlisted in the navy, on the United States cruiser Boston, and after an extensive voyage and when on his return home to the north, the ship was ordered to stop at Hayti, West Indies. While there he contracted yellow fever, dying before reaching his home. His body was buried at sea, thirty miles off Cape Hatteras.

This same "housewife" was sent home by a friend to Ewing Thrapp's people, reverting to the maker, his sister Gertrude. In the Spanish-American war in 1898 another brother, Ward Thrapp, from this family of patriots, enlisted in humanity's cause. Again, this sister, Gertrude presented this same "housewife" to serve the second volunteer. Ward Thrapp returned home at the close of the war with Spain and brought this relic with him. It is his wish that it be placed in the relic room of Lemont Post G. A. R. and some future time it may become the property of his sister's son, Ewing Savage.

This relic of two wars is half a yard in length and four inches in width, formed of woolen material which has retained its color to a marked degree. On a pin-roll are the brother's initials, "E. T.", and through two silken straps a pair of scissors rests, below are two pockets for thread and buttons, among which is a coat button of brass, having Ohio's seal in fine preservation on its face, at the extreme length is a needle hook of red and blue flannel leaves, between which several pins and needles are still holding their places. The whole length may be rolled up and tied with ribbons, or

AMUSEMENTS

RAYMOND ZIRKEL'S THE NAIAID COMPANY.

Miss Edna Fox, the prima donna soprano who made such a decided hit with the Neddermeyer band at their concert in Newark on New Year's Day will appear in the title role of Raymond Zirkel's production of his beautiful operetta, "The Naiad," at the Keith theatre the week of May 8. This is one of the most pretentious musical productions in vaudeville, being a complete grand opera in one act and two scenes and requiring nearly a carload of scenery and electrical effects. The story of the operetta deals with love affairs of The Naiad, who is a water nymph, dwelling in a pool in an oasis in the Egyptian desert and Sir Lamuel, an English nobleman, who is lost on the sands and in search of water. In the first scene Miss Fox has a dance called "The Sacred Dance to Isis," in which she appears to be dancing barefooted upon the surface of the water of the pool in which she dwells. The second scene shows the interior of the pool and is one of the most beautiful stage settings ever presented. Following the Columbus engagement the entire production will be taken to New York.

NEWSY NOTES OF INTEREST TO ALL GLASSWORKERS

The Commoner and Glassworker this week contains the usual interesting letter from "Colville," the Newark correspondent, as well as a fine bunch of general news that will be read with interest by all glass workers.

Newark, O., May 5.—Chas. Dougherty, a well known local worker, had the misfortune to lose his 17-year-old son recently. He was employed in the Trust Building as elevator boy and was fatally crushed. The body was taken to Millville, N. J., for burial.

Emil Johnson, an old-time glass blower of this city, passed away last Saturday evening. He was well known throughout the bottle trade. Chas. Schwartz, a prominent local blower, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is getting along very nicely.

David Green, who also underwent an operation for appendicitis, is able to be about, but is not yet strong enough to go to work.

Branch No. 24 will elect delegates next Saturday to the 35th annual convention, which will be held this year at Columbus. There are 18 candidates and all are good men. Only six are to be elected.

GENERAL NEWS.

A telegram received from San Francisco, Cal., conveyed the information that part of the Illinois-Pacific Glass Co.'s plant was destroyed by fire this week, entailing damage amounting to nearly $150,000 on the buildings and stock. The loss is fully covered by insurance. It is understood that only one furnace was destroyed.

Fire at Cape May Court House, N. J., last Monday destroyed a portion of the Cape May Glass Co.'s plant. The loss amounted to about $40,000, fully covered by insurance. Rebuilding will begin as soon as possible.

The large continuous tank and the furnace at the Lippincott Glass Co.'s factory, Alexandria, Ind., are operating steadily. This plant now employs 108 off-hand men. The factory shops, three paste mold, two iron mold, eight bulb and one glass pipe shop.

All departments at the Monongah Glass Co.'s big plant, Fairmont, W. Va., are working full capacity except tank No. 1, which is to be placed in blast within the next two weeks.

The machine tank at the Fidelity Glass Co.'s bottle plant, Tarentum, his little talking and acting dummies in a ventriloquist production entitled "A Cyclone at Sea." He carries a special set of scenery for his act. Billy Windom, vaudeville's old-time favorite, kept the audience in good humor. He makes up as a black nurse girl. Scheck and D'Arville, in their novelty acrobatic and character changing act were a big success. They really furnish two lines of entertainment at the same time, for while Scheck is doing some of his own style of classy acrobatic work Miss D'Arville presents her ideas in character changing and impersonations.

The Orpheumscope has a pretty picture story.

BARONESS VON HUTTEN.

Author of "Pam," "Our Lady of the Bechees," etc., whose "The Clanton Letters," a story of unusual ingenuity and heart interest, is printed on the May "Century."

The Baroness von Hutten is of American birth and education; but since her marriage to the Freiherr von Hutten, chamberlain to the King of Bavaria, her residence has been Steinbach. The picture shows her in the costume worn in the fairy play, "Pinky and the Fairies," presented at His Majesty's theatre, December 7, 1909. This part was taken the previous year by Ellen Terry.

ORPHEUM.

One of the classic bills of the season opened Thursday matinee at the cozy Arcade playhouse. One of the big hits on the bill was Dunlar and Turner. They make one of the best teams which as ever played at the Orpheum. Mr. Dunlar has an excellent voice and his work is equalled by Miss Turner. Their dancing won for them many rounds of applause, while their humor kept the audience roaring. Mr. Powers, Ireland's greatest ventriloquist, assisted by Paulina made a big hit with Scene from "One Girl in a Thousand" to be Presented by The Mae L. Forte Stock Company at the Auditorium Theatre.

Pa., is to be placed in full operation shortly, according to advices received this week from that place.

Last week the Illinois Glass Co., Alton, Ill., commenced the erection of another factory for the installation of three more automatic machines. Nine machines are now in operation.

Arrais are progressing as usual at the South Jersey Glass Co.'s bottle plant, Swedesboro, N. J., and it is expected that it will operate the balance of the blast.

The Libbey Glass Co., Toledo, is operating their plant as usual, and except for the scarcity of small help, the shops are making good time.

All the Point Marion, Pa., window glass plants are running steadily with a slight shortage of workmen, especially blowers.

Repair work on the window glass tank at Pleasantville, O., has been completed and operations will likely be resumed in the near future. A wind system will be installed in the factory department.

The Standard Plate Glass Co., Butler, Pa., are erecting a five-story building to be used for storage and for the manufacture of pots.

The Cunningham Window Glass Co., Buckingham, W. Va., are operating their factory steadily. They expect to shut down four days the last of the month to set blocks and then continue operations until August 31.

Factory No. 6 of the Illinois Glass Co., Alton, Ill., started on two shifts the early part of this week, the third shift being laid off on account of the scarcity of small help.

At Uniontown, Pa., the Keystone Bottle Manufacturing Co. are operating their plant as steadily as usual and a continuance of present conditions is anticipated until the end of the blast.

The Owens European Bottle Machine Co., of Toledo, recently filed notice at Columbus of a decrease in the capital stock from $3,000,000 to $1,500,000.

The Whitney Glass Works, Glassboro, N. J., are enlarging their blacksmith and mold shop, preparatory to the installation of two more machines.

It is reported that the cap of the tank at the New Bethlehem Window Glass Co.'s plant, New Bethlehem, Pa., gave way partially this week and that the factory has been closed down for repairs, which may require three weeks or more.

STATE WILL BE ASKED TO CARE FOR ITS RESORTS

That Ohio's inland summer resorts including Buckeye lake, the Lewistown reservoir and others under control of the state which are becoming more popular each year as a place of rest and recreation are in dire need of attention by state authorities is the opinion of Dr. C. O. Probst, secretary of the state board of health, who is preparing to take the matter up with the state board of public works.

Dr. Probst has received many complaints from Newark and Columbus people, who spend their summers at Buckeye lake, of the unsanitary conditions existing there. There is no system of sewage and, with the rapidly increasing population of these resorts, the condition is becoming a menace to the health. In the opinion of Dr. Probst, the state board will probably send one of its engineers to inspect conditions at Buckeye lake and report on the matter.

EIGHT LEGGED PIG.

Earnie Aukerman has a freak of nature at this place, in the way of an eight-legged pig, says the Plainly Republican. It is one of a little nine, and a well developed pig with the exception of the four extra legs which it carries under it. The pig was crossed between Jersey Red and Poland China. It is about a week old.

A Burglar's Awful Deed may not paralyze a home so completely as a mother's long illness. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a splendid remedy for women. The Secret Test. "How," the president of the Fat Man's club was asked, "did you prevent fraud among your applicants for membership? Didn't some men try to get in that weren't up to the standard weight?"

"Yes," the portly officer replied, "but it was no use. Applicants had to be presented in person at the Polk building, fifth floor. There was no elevator. The applicant climbed the five flights of stairs."

"At the top he met a man who asked, 'Were you looking for the Fat Man's club?'"

"Yes." "The main office is on the first floor," the man said. "Your application is rejected. We receive no man who can climb five flights of stairs."—Youth's Companion.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

Could Hardly Eat. Gradually Grew Worse. Relieved by Peruna.

Mr. A. M. Ikard.

Mr. A. M. Ikard, Box 31, West Burlington, Ia., writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief, and finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago, and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me; said I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse. Finally I concluded to try Peruna, and I found relief and a cure for that dreadful disease, catarrh. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manadin, and now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time."

Daddy's Bedtime Story—A Double Measure Evening

The Wolf and the Lamb

ONE day daddy thought he would tell two stories to Jack and Evelyn. He called it a "double measure evening," and the youngsters thought it was a fine idea.

The first story daddy told was about the wolf and the lamb. He said that once upon a time long ago a wolf saw a lamb taking a drink at a brook.

"Ah," said the wolf to himself, "I should like to have that lamb for my supper. I wonder how I can manage to pick a quarrel with him and then eat him up?"

"Of course the wolf was much bigger and stronger than the lamb, and he could have jumped on the poor little fellow and eaten him up without a warning, but he felt as though he should like to have an excuse for doing so. So he said to the poor little lamb:

"See here, how dare you muddy the water which I am drinking?"

"Oh, sir," said the little lamb, "I am not muddying your water! Indeed, it is quite impossible for me to muddy your water, for do you not see that the water flows from you to me?"

"Indeed," said the wolf. "Well, you are too impudent anyway. I believe you are the lamb who called me names last year."

"Oh, no, sir," said the lamb. "That could not have been me, for I was not even born last year."

"Well, if it was not you it was your father or your brother or some one of your family, and I shall eat you anyway." And he did.

The other story was about a man who had seven sons who were always quarreling with one another. That made the father very sorry, and he decided to teach them a lesson.

"One day he called his sons together and showed them a bundle of sticks, seven in all. He handed the bundle to each one of his sons in turn, beginning with the oldest, and told each one to try to break it. They tried as hard as they could, taking the bundle in their hands and trying to break it, bending it across their knees and in other ways, but they could not break it. When each one had tried and had said that he could not break the sticks the father said:

"You see how strong the sticks are when they are held together in a bundle. Now undo the bundle and try to break each stick separately." Then, of course, it was easy to break the sticks, and the father said:

"You see how strong this family will be if we all stick together and how weak we shall be if we quarrel and keep apart."

CARNEGIE HERO FORMERLY RESIDED ON THIRD STREET

Attention of Hero Fund Commission to Lad's Brave Deed Was Result of Letter from Newark

One of the recipients of the recent awards of the Carnegie hero fund commission, Roy Lockwood, is a former Newark boy, having resided for some time on South Third street and was quite well known to the residents of that part of the city. His uncle, Mr. E. D. Everetts, the well known cigar maker, at present connected with the Wehrle company, was the one who called the commission's attention to the boy's heroic deed.

Roy Lockwood is 15 years of age and resides at Bellaire, O. The commission found that the lad when 13 years of age saved a four year old boy from drowning by going to his assistance. The child had fallen from a rock into the McMahon river, where the water was 12 feet deep. The child dragged Roy from behind about the neck, partly choking him, and struck him over the head and face repeatedly. During the struggle they went under the surface twice, and a man dived into the water and showed them to the bank. Both were very weak but recovered.

Young Lockwood will receive a medal and a reward of $1,000. The commission will decide in the near future what disposition is to be made of the fund and in all probability it will be invested and used to assist the boy in getting an education.

MOUND BUILDERS PARK TO FURNISH MANY AMUSEMENTS

Mound Builders' Park, formerly known as Idlewild and Rigel park, will be opened to the public tomorrow all day under the management of Mrs. Sara M. Ferry, who is well and favorably known to Newark people generally. Special motion pictures will be featured, and other amusements offered for the entertainment of the public.

The formal opening of the park will occur Sunday, May 28, when the Himmelman Stock Company will open an engagement which will last the entire season, playing each day with a special feature matinee Sunday afternoons. Other matinees will no doubt be arranged during the season.

The theatre has been enlarged, 60 feet having been added this spring, giving the auditorium a seating capacity of 1000 people.

Mrs. Ferry will be assisted in the management of the place by her sons, Charles and William Ferry, both of whom have been in the amusement business in Newark for several years. They have established a reputation of presenting the best offerings for the amusement going people of the city.

The best of concessions have been disposed of and the roller rink, shooting gallery, dance hall, etc. will be operated as usual.

Marsh's orchestra has been engaged to play during the entire season. Concerts will be given every afternoon and evening.

The board of agriculture, which owns the park, has built an automobile drive for the accommodation and pleasure of local motorists.

They Never Have Headache, Biliousness, Sluggish, Inactive Bowels or a Bad Stomach to Make Them Miserable.

A million boxes a month. That's the sale of Cascarets. And every tablet in every box means a day of good cheer. Think what a world of happiness this candy laxative has brought to men and women—also the children. Are you getting your share?

Cascarets cure bowel troubles when they have developed. But that is the least of their uses. Their best service is to prevent the many ills that come from inactive bowels. Think of the days when you are not at your best. The mornings when you don't feel right, the afternoons when you are lousy, the evenings when you are irritable. The cause lies in the bowels. One Cascarets makes everything different. Don't say "I'll take it tonight." Take it at once. Carry a box in your pocket. The hours before bedtime are too good to be wasted. Cascarets are gentle and pleasant. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit on the bowels. They are sold by all druggists at 10 cents per box.

LABOR NEWS

Delegates remember that the next regular meeting of the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly will be Sunday, May 14, at 9 o'clock a. m.

There will be some very important business to claim your attention. The Labor Day Committee will have a report and perhaps the legislation and arbitration committees will have reports.

There will be quite a lot of new business and some new committees are to be appointed, also some local city business will be brought forward for your consideration.

The last meeting of the assembly was very satisfactory. The body was duly opened by Chaplain A. J. Bingham and Acting President W. W. Litten. The president appointed Organizer Adams recording secretary, pro tem, Secretary Morgan having a business engagement and could not be present.

The journal of last meeting was approved. The legislative, arbitration and postoffice committees made reports.

Several communications from the American and Ohio State Federations of Labor were read and referred to proper committees, one from Brother John Voll, president of the Ohio State Federation, saying that a state organizer's commission had been sent to District Organizer J. W. Adams. The Assembly and local union of Newark all favor celebrating labor day in the city. This will do away with paying far fare for brothers with large families who can enjoy the day at home.

HEBRON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Our high school boys and girls are expecting to visit Newark Friday evening, the occasion being the county high school contests in spelling and oratory. Hebron will have part in both contests and will make an honest effort to win.

Some of the seniors will attend the county examinations in Newark Saturday.

Rev. Tibbles will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the M. E. church Sunday morning, May 28, at 10 o'clock.

Florence Madden attended the circus Tuesday evening.

The botany class is now collecting some fine specimens of spring flowers. They are required to press and mount 35 specimens.

Some of the high school boys will attend the field meet at Pataskala, Saturday, May 13.

The Teachers' Reading Circle club will hold their last meeting Monday evening, May 8. A banquet will follow the regular work of the club.

The high school has purchased a beautiful pennant inscribed with the words "Oratory and Spelling" and will carry it to the contest Friday evening.

Ruth Pence spent Saturday and Sunday in Newark.

Kathryn Davis attended the circus Tuesday.

It Started the World when the astounding claims were first made for Bucklen's Arnica Salve, but forty years of wonderful cures have proved them true, and everywhere it is now known as the best salve on earth for Burns, Boils, Scalds, Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Swellings, Eczema, Chapped hands, Fever Sores and Piles. Only 25c at F. D. Hall's.

FALLSBURG.

Mr. J. W. Frost was a Newark caller Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Porter and daughter, Inez, were Newark callers Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fairall were guests of K. A. Barcroft and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Frost, Messrs. Ross Pipes and Ross Frost were Newark callers, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase Cullison and son, Floyd, were the guests of Mrs. Mary Cullison of near Martinsburg, Sunday.

Misses Mabel Barcroft and Della Cullison were callers at the home of William Crawford and family Sunday evening.

Harold Beckham of Goshen spent a few days with Floyd Porter, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Barcroft were Newark visitors, Monday.

Mr. F. M. Frost bought a fine young work horse at Joseph Wright's sale, Saturday.

Messrs. Park Mossholder and Rolla Clark were hauling hay from Wm. Crawford's for A. E. Johnson, Tuesday.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

Rumor has it that the C. H. and D. will also spend two million dollars to improve its line between Hamilton and Dayton during the summer. The company will do its own work.

The B. and O. railroad at the Mt. Clare shops, Baltimore, has started to give the foreign employees instructions during the noon hour in speaking and writing English and through the use of cards, continuing the lessons at home with their families. It is further planned in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association to give training in some industrial line, which will fit the young people to readily seize hold on the mechanical labor connected with railroad work. The teaching will embrace a four year course.

The vastness of the Pennsylvania railroad system is clearly shown in a pamphlet just issued, which gives the miles of line operated by this company in the territory it traverses. On December 31, 1910, the company controlled 11,262 miles of line, and a total trackage of 24,616 miles.

Toledo, O., May 6.—Final details of the consolidation of the freight departments of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads in Toledo, and consequent changes in the field staffs of the two roads, were announced yesterday by Commercial Freight Agent E. C. Law. W. K. Davis, heretofore freight agent of the B. and O. in Michigan territory, is transferred to Milwaukee, where he will have charge of all Wisconsin territory for B. and O. J. C. Wilson, traveling freight agent of C. H. and D. in Michigan territory, is transferred to Omaha, Neb., and will cover territory in that state. H. W. Cline, for many years soliciting freight agent in Toledo for the B. and O. company, is given a furlough until such time as a suitable position can be found for him. The freight offices of the B. and O. are to be abandoned, and the consolidated offices of that road and the C. H. and D. will be moved to the Ohio building.

CLOTHING INSURANCE FOR WOMEN. Sounds rather sensational, but let us explain. Washable clothing is composed of linen, cotton and wool, and these fabrics are torn to pieces by the alkalis and caustics which are the main component part of most of the yellow rosin soaps on the market. If you use a true, honest soap which possesses the right cleaning and antiseptic properties, you insure the life of the fabrics.

Hewitt's Easy Task soap, made from pure tallow, coconut oil and borax, contains no destructive or unpleasant effective in its cleansing qualities. Five cents a cake.

OIL AND GAS NEWS.

Purvis-Martin No. 2 on the Martin lease in the New Straitsville field is proving to be the freak well of the field. This well came in with a fine showing but soon proved to be a light producer. In fact its production so fell off that the board seriously contemplated plugging it. The tubing was pulled and sold. After a short lapse of time it began to flow and this was kept up for days at a time when it would quit and no oil be produced for a number of days. It is now flowing about eight barrels per day during its intermittent flood periods.

Another gas field in Muskingum county will probably result from a big strike when a 300,000 foot gasser was drilled in on the McAllister farm just west of West Lafayette, by Samuel Bell. It is possible that the town of West Lafayette will be furnished with gas if the flow is strong and durable.

The holdings of the Purvis-Martin company one mile south of New Straitsville are attracting the attention of oil men. This company holds leases on several hundred acres of land that now begins to loom up big. Right now stens are being taken to have a test well put down on some of this land.

In the oil field of the southwestern section of Coshocton county there is considerable excitement. In this field it is stated that Mrs. Isaac Norris, upon whose farm the Ohio-Rochester company drilled in a producer some time ago, has been offered a fabulous sum for the land or even the royalty interest. It is reported that the Ohio-Rochester company will make 36 locations in the county soon. All the tankage at the Norris well is full of crude and more is being constructed. The Buckeye Pipe line company is preparing to construct a pipe line into the field.

The Columbus Gas and Fuel company made a lease of the Hilleary farm in the extreme southeast corner of Eden township, a few days ago, and at once made a location for a well. The rig is now being put up, on the north side of the farm. The nearest drilling ever done to this location was one mile northeast, a dry hole.

The Loran company has made a location and a rig was hauled in this week, on the north end of Mrs. Holton's 80-acre tract a short distance northeast of Eden church.

Robespierre's Style of Dress.

Robespierre's manner of dress, even at the period when the demagogues affected the slovenliness and disorder of indigence in order to flatter the people, was clean, decent and precise as that of a man who respects himself in the eyes of others. His white powdered hair, turned up in clusters over his temples; a bright blue coat buttoned over his hips, open over the breast to display a white vest; short yellow colored breeches, white stockings and shoes with silver buckles, formed his invariable costume during the whole of his public life. It was said that he desired by thus never varying the style or color of his garments to make the same impression in the sight and imagination of the people as a medal of his face would have caused.—Lamarline's "History of the Girondists."

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Newark Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Newark readers.

Amos Frey, Toboso, Nawark, Ohio, says: "I have been entirely free from kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me over eleven years ago. I suffered severely from pains through the small of my back and they were always aggravated by the least exertion. If I sat in one position for any length of time, my back became so sore that I could hardly arise. I took several remedies but the relief obtained was slight and I continued to grow worse until I was in a serious condition. I finally read of Doan's Kidney Pills and as they were highly recommended for complaints similar to mine, I procured a box. They lived up to representations, going directly to the seat of my trouble and relieving me of all pain. I have always recommended Doan's Kidney Pills highly and I deem it a pleasure to do so."

FOOT FIGHTS UTILITY BILL

Big Standard Oil Interests Out Against Winters Measure.

BURNS DENIES JACKPOT FAKE

Charge That Corruption Fund Is Raised to Influence Votes Refuted
by Famous Detective—Utility Control Bill Approved by Senate.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—The Winters utility bill as amended by the senate committee, on railroads and telegraphs has met with the approval of 25 members of the senate. After an all day fight against the bill by Standard Oil gas companies the amendments were accepted by a vote of 25 to 7, and it is prophesied that when the measure comes up for passage on Tuesday it will receive even stronger support.

The trust owned gas companies of Ohio are against the bill because it holds them to their contracts. Under the Winters bill a natural gas company can not stop serving gas to a municipality, as was recently threatened in Cleveland, Columbus, Akron and other Ohio cities. This Winters bill puts gas companies under the control of a state commission, just as it does the railroads, electric light and telephone companies, and without interfering in the slightest with the rights of municipalities.

Steam and electric railways are waiting to jump on the bill at the first opportunity. It was put up to Standard Oil to kill the bill in the senate and failing there the others will assist the Standard in the effort to sandbag it in the house.

These interests will get some support in the house. The plan is to amend the bill in such a way that the senate will not agree to the changes and then send the whole proposition to a conference committee. In the closing days of a session this is an easy way to kill a bill.

In their efforts to kill the measure the Standard Oil representatives succeeded in getting a string of trusted-owned sensational newspapers to print story to the effect that a hundred thousand dollar jackpot had been raised to pass the utility bill.

It so happens that one William J. Burns, the famous graft detective, has been working on graft cases in Columbus and his operatives are in a position to know just where graft exists. Detective Burns did not want any meritorious measure hurt because of his activities in graft cases and he issued this statement concerning the fake $100,000 jackpot story:

"It is positively amusing the uses to which it is endeavored to put my agency during such times as these."

"Take, for instance, the story of an afternoon paper to the effect that a $100,000 jackpot had been raised to further the passage of the public utilities bill now pending in the legislature in Columbus."

"There is no question in my mind but that the opposition to this utility measure has resorted to the vaguest kind of rumors circulated by themselves in order to make it appear that my investigations here would bear them out."

"I do not propose to have my agency or any of my men used in any proposition to further the interest of any special privilege in any matters now before the legislature."

"There has been nothing in the methods used to further the passage of a general utilities bill in the legislature that has attracted the attention of myself or any of my operatives."

In his defense of the public utilities bill in the senate, Senator Todd of Franklin county called attention to the fact that both party platforms declared for utility control by the state.

Senator Todd told his fellow-members that the utility bill pending before them met with the demands of the planks in both platforms, and no one denied the assertion.

In view of the fact that both parties have gone on record on the utility control subject many members will be forced to vote for the measure because they fear they will not be able to explain a "no" vote to the people back home.

SHERWOOD BILL

Will Be Taken Up by the Committee on Invalid Pensions.

Washington, D. C., May 6.—The issue between Representative Sherwood of Toledo, chairman of the committee on invalid pensions, and Representative Anderson, of Foster, over the character of pension legislation which that committee should report to the house, was definitely and decisively settled last night at a meeting of that committee.

By a vote of 7 to 4 the committee agreed to take up for consideration the Sherwood service pension bill rather than the Anderson age pension measure, which the Foster member has been agitating and endeavoring to get before the house by means of a motion to discharge the committee on invalid pensions.

It is now assured by reason of the action of the committee that the service pension bill, which recognizes merit in the granting of gratuities to the veterans, rather than age, will be favorably reported to the house in the near future.

The bill, it is estimated, will take one half of the veterans now at soldiers' homes out and enable them to live upon their pension incomes.

VERY PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT BY MR. KOEHLER

Given Under Auspices of Knights of Columbus at the High School Auditorium.

To an appreciative audience which listened with closest attention unabating from the initial number to the close of a varied and most interesting program, Mr. Charlemagne Koehler of Washington, D. C., at the High school auditorium Thursday evening appeared in the role of entertainer, a role for which he is by profession, by temperament and by lavish endowments from nature preeminently fitted, and with his magnetic and charming personality, demonstrating his happy philosophy. He is verily the Prince of entertainers. Opening with Lasca, Mr. Koehler gave his hearers a graphic picture of the wild care-free life of the West that has passed. His conception and rendition of this selection so often done and so often both over and underdone, is strikingly original and thrilled his hearers with an unforgettable pleasure.

In Shakespearean numbers it would be difficult to say in which he excelled. In the gloomy forebodings of Hamlet's soliloquy he was masterful while in the portrayal of the Seven Ages of Man from "As You Like It" he was starting in his faithful impersonation of the successive stages of man's life. In the next number he delighted his hearers with a beautiful conception of the truly admirable little poem "What the Rose Said," in the rendition of which he was accompanied by Arthur Devlin and Justin Keeley on the piano and violin. In this his word pictures were so vivid, so realistic that the perfumed breathed voice of the rose seemed telling its own story.

Mr. Koehler's reading from the sublime to the ridiculous, from pathos to wit, apparently is but a thought, for with most marvelous versatility he turned from the tragic deliberations of the melancholy Dane in "Hamlet" to one of his own happy creations, "The Basquill Schoolboy," and others of equal mirth provoking tendencies in a truly inimitable way which carried his audience to repeated outbursts of enthusiastic applause, while in his interpretation of "Poverty Flats" he catches and portrays Bret Hart's matchless blend of humor and pathos. Mr. Koehler displayed all the qualifications of a successful and high class entertainer. His voice is of great compass, his carriage one of unconscious grace, while his countenance in the transitions of his varied program of greatest nobility upon which the varied and ever changing moods of his temperament proclaim themselves with unmistakable precision.

As home talent features Mr. Albert C. Gondard and Mr. John Birmingham's rendition of a number of songs, accompanied by Mr. Arthur Deblin, were very pleasing.

CARRIERS' WINDOW AT POSTOFFICE TO BE CLOSED SUNDAYS

The Carriers' window will be closed at the postoffice on Sundays until further notice, but the General Delivery window will be kept open as usual to accommodate the traveling public and those patrons of the office who call for urgent personal mail.

The Department realizes that a search of the carriers' cases by the General Delivery Clerk would consume a little time, but it is anticipated that patrons will refrain from calling for mail on Sundays unless the occasion is urgent, and that under such circumstances they will be willing to wait.

Any patron desiring an important communication delivered to them on Sunday, will be accommodated upon the payment of the prescribed fee for the special delivery service.

Mails will be received and dispatched to trains and distributed to lock boxes as usual.

TO TAKE TIME ON RECIPROCITY

Senate Will Not Hurry Consideration of Measure.

SEE CHANGE OF SENTIMENT.

Opponents of the Bill Are Providing Material For Debate—Indications Are That Extra Session Will Last Into July—Progressive Republicans Satisfied With Their Progress.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 6.—[Special.]—As the senate intends to take its time to consider the Canadian reciprocity bill it may be quite awhile before we get into an active tariff debate in that body. Of course there is nothing to prevent any senator from making a speech on reciprocity. Several senators talked on the reciprocity bill in the last congress while it was still in committee. They can do the same thing this session. But, even so, it will not shorten the debate.

The delay which has already occurred and the prospects of further delay in the senate indicate that the session will last well into July. One reason for holding the bill so long in committee is the fact that a majority of that committee is opposed to the bill, or, at least, that is the way they have been counted. The longer they give to hearings the more material the opponents will have to delay the bill in the senate.

That is the only theory to account for the delay, although there are indications that the opponents of the bill believe that it is becoming more unpopular throughout the country.

Familiar to Champ.

If there is any particular piece of literature with which Champ Clark is getting reasonably familiar it is that remark made away back in 1894 about tearing down the custom houses. Every body is now desiring to make a hit with that old speech. It is getting to be as familiar to Clark as anything he ever uttered.

Well Satisfied.

Utmost satisfaction is expressed by the progressive Republicans over the advance which is being made toward their policies. Circulars and statements issued from time to time show that the people are making many advances in different states toward the initiative and referendum, the direct election of all officers and of those advanced doctrines which were derided as Utopian a few years ago.

Senator Bourne, chairman of the progressive Republicans, is most optimistic over the success thus far attained. In the press notices which are issued it is observed that progressive Democracy is also given prominence. "There are no party differences in this great movement," declares Bourne.

More Annexation Talk.

Congressman Prince of Illinois in a speech denouncing Canadian reciprocity declared that Champ Clark was right when he said it meant ultimate annexation. It is true that officials on both sides of the line rush in and assert that annexation is not intended, but the people are thinking a great deal about it. Those who have seen the hundreds and thousands of Americans in Canada know that they would be willing to see the peaceful annexation of Canada, or at least the western portion.

If the boundary line is ever changed it will not be fifty-four forty, but the line which may be claimed as a part of Peary's discovery.

Locating a Fault.

Congressman Sims was making a speech, and Mann of Illinois interrupted him. "I am within twenty feet of the gentleman and cannot hear him," said Mann, who wanted to show that the house was already too large.

"I cannot talk any louder," said the Tennesseean.

"I knew it. The fault is in the size of the house," shouted Mann.

"I knew it was not the fault of the size of my mouth," shouted back Sims, and those who heard the colloquy thought Mann had proved his point.

Friendly With Insurgents.

Those who expected that Uncle Joe Cannon would come down from the speaker's chair and tear into the insurgents who were so severe on him in the last congress have been very much disappointed. Beyond asking "Who is that pinhead?" when a new insurgent voted against the caucus nominee for minority leader he has been as suave as possible to the insurgents. He gets into the debates with them and often is found supporting them and their arguments.

Many insurgents found themselves on the same side with Uncle Joe during the consideration of different measures which have passed. Perhaps upon a closer view of each other these warring members may find they are not as bad as each believed the other.

Berger Is Not Lost.

Congressman Berger of Wisconsin, the only really pronounced Socialist that has been elected to congress, is not overshadowed by the fact that he is a minority of one. He can introduce resolutions, and they are generally by sensational enough to cause comment, although it has been determined to allow all of them to sleep quietly in the committee. Berger will make a speech some day which may give him still more notoriety.

COURT NEWS

Common Pleas Court.

In the case of John H. Hawley vs. Wason Price, et al., a line fence dispute, the submission of testimony was concluded to the court and jury late Friday afternoon, and the arguments of counsel will take place on Monday morning.

State of Ohio vs. Frank Fox, arrested on an affidavit for keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold. Plea of guilty entered, keeping a place on Jefferson street. Fined $200 and costs. Upon representations and promises made by defendant, the court suggested the execution of the sentence during the time that Fox refrains from selling intoxicating liquors, tending bar, or having anything whatever to do with the liquor business. Should information be brought to the court that defendant has violated his promise, a bench warrant will issue, and sentence carried out.

Julia E. Hale vs. Chas. D. Hale, suit for divorce on ground of neglect of duty. Decree of divorce was granted plaintiff.

Suit in Contempt.

Smythe & Smythe, as attorneys for Etta May Ward, have commenced suit in common pleas court against Thomas Ward for contempt of court. Plaintiff says that she was awarded alimony in the sum of $25 per month and says defendant has failed to pay.

Motion Filed.

In the case of the P. C. C. & St. L. Ry. Co. vs. the Board of County Commissioners of Licking county the defendants have filed a motion asking the court to dissolve the temporary injunction allowed for the reason that the petition of plaintiff does not state a cause of action authorizing the injunction, and because the petition does not state a cause of action in favor of the plaintiff against these defendants and for the reason that the bond for the injunction is insufficient. Phil B. Smythe, prosecuting attorney.

Partition Case.

John W. Brown has commenced action in the common pleas court against George Fessler, Daniel Altshol, Harry D. Rank, John W. Hornby, George Hermann, W. C. Rank, E. Proper and C. L. V. Holtz, treasurer of Licking county, to partition certain real estate. He asks that his interest be set off to him in severalty and if the same can not be done without manifest injury, then that the real estate be appraised and sold according to law, and that the defendants be required to set up their several liens upon the property, and if the same is not done that they be barred from all claim therein and for all other relief equity may afford. A. A. Stasel, attorney for the plaintiff.

Answer Filed.

In the case of Louise Good vs. the G. Edwin Smith Shoe Co. the defendant has filed its answer. The plaintiff sues defendant for $5,050 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her on the 17th of January, by falling down a stairway.

The defendant, in its answer denies all the allegations made by the plaintiff, and claims that plaintiff herself was guilty of negligence which directly contributed to and was the direct and proximate cause of her fall and injuries in that she failed to use ordinary care in descending the stairs. Fitzgibbon & Montgomery, attorneys for the defendant.

Reply to Answer and Cross Petition.

In the case of Frances R. Peck and Louise H. Rider against Charles M. Rider and Clementine Roche and others, the defendant, Clementine Roche, has filed her reply to the answer and cross petition of A. A. Stasel, as testamentary trustee of Mary Zimmerman. C. H. Follett, attorney.

Saved Child from Death.

"After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson, of Richardson's Mills, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had a bad cough all the time. We tried many remedies without avail, and doctor's medicine seemed as useless. Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." For coughs, colds, hoarseness, croup, asthma, croup and sore lungs, it's the most reliable remedy that's made. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall.

Shoes at Cost Plus 5 Per Cent.

More About the Regal Shoe Co.'s Plan of Scientific and Economical Shoe-Selling.

There is a bill before Congress to authorize the coinage of the half-cent

The advocates of this bill say that a half-cent coin would save the public hundreds of dollars a year. Prices like 6 1/2 cents, 12 1/2 cents, 37 1/2 cents, are common in the dry-goods shops. But if you buy only one yard of a 37 1/2 cent muslin, you must pay 38 cents. If you buy a half-a-yard of 35 cent muslin you must pay, not 17 1/2 cents, but 18 cents. So, the use of the half-cent is urged as a measure of economy.

If it is wise to split a cent, how much wiser to split half dollars?

If the public has lost thousands through the lack of a half-cent, how many millions has the public lost because there was no coin of less value than the half-dollar recognized in shoe stores?

Think a moment and you will see that this is a fact. Have you ever seen a fine shoe of standard make regularly sold at any other price than full dollars or half dollars—$3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, and so on?

Standard shoes have always been made to fit these arbitrary prices, fixed in advance. Why? We don't know—except that it is a trade custom, which is no reason at all.

Anyhow, the Regal Shoe Co.
have abolished that custom

They have put the selling of shoes on to the same exact, scientific, economical basis that governs the pricing of most other necessities of life, and which ought to govern all of them.

Regal Shoes will hereafter be priced at cost of making, plus five per cent. commission and the cost of selling.

Regals will be made in several general price-classes, but the actual price of every model will be figured as above by certified public accountants. AND STAMPED ON THE SHOES AT THE FACTORY.

The price will be stamped just as it figures out (except that there will be no splitting nickels). It may be an "odd" price, like $3.85, $4.35, etc.—or it may be an "even" price, like $4.00, $4.50, etc. Whatever it really figures, you will pay. There will be no "juggling" either of the shoes or the prices to make the latter conform to tradition.

This is the Stamp

This stamp is your guarantee of full Regal quality at the lowest price for which such quality can be bought. It takes all the uncertainty, all the unknown profits, all the unnecessary expense out of shoe buying.

It is your guarantee that the LARGEST POSSIBLE PROPORTION of the price you pay is returned in leather and workmanship.

In Regal Shoes MORE OF YOUR MONEY WILL GO
FOR SHOE SATISFACTION and LESS FOR SOME ONE'S PROFIT than in any other make you can buy.

In Regal Shoes you get what you want, and pay only for what you get

If a heavier sole, worth 20 cents more, is put into a Regal Shoe that would otherwise sell for $4.00, the price of that shoe will be $4.20. Under the old system further and unnecessary expense had to be added also, to bring the retail price up to $4.50.

If leather goes down, you will pay us only the exact amount of the advance. If leather goes down, you now automatically save 95 per cent. of whatever the Regal Factory saves. Heretofore, small economies in factory cost could seldom save you anything.

If a new Regal model is designed that can be sold at, say, $4.35, it will be sold at $4.35. Under the old system, either the shoe had to be trimmed down to make it cost $4.00, or unnecessary expense added to make it cost $4.50.

Regal Prices Are Now $3.35 to $5.85

CLOTHES OF LAD WERE FIRED BY BURNING BRUSH

Six Year Old Youngster Has Narrow Escape From Death by Flames.
News of Granville.

Granville, May 6.—Screaming with fright and pain caused by flames that were searing his limbs, little Allen Watt Ashley, the six-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Ashley of Springfield, O., who are visiting Mrs. Ashley's sister, Mrs. Coons, wife of Professor C. H. Coons of Denison University, rushed around in the Coons premises Friday, with his little Indian suit in which he was attired, in flames.

Parties were engaged in burning brush in the rear of the yard, and little Allen and several other children were playing about the fire. In some way or other the clothes of the Ashley boy caught fire, and before he realized the fact, the flames had nearly enveloped his left leg. Mrs. Sink, a neighbor, saw the boy as he ran around the yard, and with rare presence of mind grabbed a piece of carpet and rushed out to where the boy was and enveloped him in the carpet. At the same time a man who was driving by grabbed up a blanket from his buggy and wrapping it about the boy rolled him on the ground and finally succeeded in extinguishing the fire. The boy was then carried into the house and Dr. Cook was called. The doctor found that the child had been burned very badly on the left limb, but gives his opinion that he will rapidly recover. Dr. and Mrs. Ashley were formerly residents of Newark, but for the past three years have been making their home in Springfield.

Mr. J. W. Lowery has purchased the shoe store of Mr. B. C. Belt. He is now engaged in invoicing the stock and laying in new goods and will announce the opening of the store in a few days. Mr. Lowery has had many years experience in the business and proposes conducting a shoe store that the Granville people will be proud of.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Williams of Dayton, O., who have been visiting relatives and friends here for a few days, have returned home.

The Missionary Society of the Baptist church had a special meeting Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. H. Johnson and Mrs. W. A. Chamberlin were leaders. After the work of the business meeting had been finished, a social hour followed. Tea was served and a pleasant time was had.

George Conrad of Granville was visiting at the home of his mother, near Utica, recently, when the horse which he had driven, broke one of its legs. The animal had to be killed.

Mrs. William Mitchell found a freak dandelion in her yard. It consisted of seven flowers on a single stem.

Mr. Oscar Schoonover left several days ago over the T. and O. C. railroad with two car loads of household goods and live stock for Chester Depot, Windsor county, Vt., where he will make his future home. Mrs. Schoonover left here some days ago to visit relatives and the state before she goes to Vermont. His mother has gone to Cleveland and after a short visit with friends there she will join them.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Benner, a prominent young business man of Springfield, was here Friday on business.

Miss Della Robertson, a charming young woman of Sandusky, who has been here for several days, the guest of her friend, Miss Jessie Edwards, returned home Friday.

Miss Fannie Andrews of Hamilton, O., spent Friday with friends in the village.

The rehearsals for the Spring Musical Festival are giving great promise of the treat that is to be given music loving people during the week of the Festival. "The Creation," now being rehearsed, gives promise of being the greatest attraction ever produced, and Mr. Carl Paige Wood, the director, is sparing no time or pains in its preparation.

Mrs. Coons, wife of Prof. C. B. Coons, most delightfully entertained a number of her friends at the Sigma Delta Phi house on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Willard of Fremont, O., who have been visiting relatives and friends here for the past week, returned home Friday.

A MARIETTA CAMPAIGN.

In Marietta the Merchants' Association is appealing to the women to "buy at home." Newspaper space is used to tell the women how they injure their own town when they make purchases abroad. The appeal closes with this truism:

"Think this matter over and resolve today that you will buy your goods only from the firms who in themselves and in their employees make it possible for your father, brother, son or husband to conduct their several businesses in Marietta."

Annual Encampment Of Grand Army

To Be Held in Lorain, in June Promises to Be Biggest That Has Been Held in Years.

Great arrangements are being made for the forty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held in Lorain, Ohio, on Monday to Friday, June 19 to 23, inclusive. The Old Guard of Columbus, which was one of the leading attractions of the encampment held in Newark, will head the parade in Lorain.

It is announced that the encampment will be honored by the presence of the commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., John E. Gilman, who will probably be with his comrades on the third and fourth days of the encampment, June 21 and 22.

On Tuesday evening of the sessions a reception will be given the department commander, Henry A. Axline and staff, in the corridor of the Majestic theatre by the president and staff of the Woman's Relief Corps. On the evening following the same officials will be received by the president and staff of the Ladies of the Grand Army. On the forenoon of Tuesday the W. R. C. will, according to custom, present a beautiful silk flag to the pupils of the Lorain high school, and on Wednesday afternoon the Ladies of the Grand Army will make a presentation to the Lorain public library of a handsome portrait of Abraham Lincoln.

On Wednesday evening there will be two camp fires, one in the Majestic theatre and the other in an auditorium engaged for the purpose, at which war times will be recalled in speech, song and story. On the following evening the citizens of Lorain have planned an elaborate display of fireworks on the lake front, and excursions on Lake Erie will be among the other features of entertainment that will be provided for the old soldiers and their wives who attend the state meeting.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair Is First Sign of Age.
Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hair. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

OLD-RELIABLE PIANO HOUSE OF A. L. RAWLINGS

At No. 4 North Park Place, Newark, O., is where you should purchase your piano, as he handles only the very best, such as KNABE Bros.-Co. (which will be ready for the market in six months), Smith & Nixon and the RAWLINGS. No better pianos were ever put on the market. Besides these he handles other makes which can be sold as low as $140, but of course they are not first class goods. There is more satisfaction dealing with an old reliable house than one who comes and goes, and has no backing. So many people come and say that they have been mistreated, by so and so. What else can you expect when they are not responsible? Whenever a person must resort to fake advertising, you can rest assured that something is wrong. If you come to this store you can buy on accommodating terms, and I will guarantee to please you in every way.

I am now offering some good bargains in used pianos. It will pay you to come and investigate.

GEN. AXLINE HAS ISSUED ORDERS FOR COMING MEMORIAL DAY

Department Commander Henry A. Axline of the Grand Army of the Republic has sent out his orders concerning the observance of Memorial Day, and reads in part as follows:

"Comrades: We are approaching again our annual Memorial Day—a day most sacred to the hearts of the comradeship of the Grand Army.

"To pay tribute to this National Memorial Day to the memory, the patriotism, the courage and unselfish devotion of our departed comrades is a privilege and a duty that we, the living, should never forget or neglect. The choices flowers of the spring time and the beautiful flag of our country should decorate the grave of every fallen soldier of the republic.

"Let us see, comrades, that this is done so far as it is in our power to do. It is the duty of Grand Army posts to take charge and control of the memorial exercises and they should invite the co-operation of all auxiliary and patriotic organizations, and the citizens of the community.

"It would not be inappropriate for the commanders of posts to ask that all business be suspended, as far as possible during the time devoted to memorial exercises.

"By all means do not neglect to provide some arrangement for the school children to have and to take part in the exercises of the day. Give them a place in the procession, and a work to do in the strewing of the flowers and the placing of flags upon the graves which will bring them into more intimate association with the memories of this patriotic day. To whatever degree we can interest the boys and girls of the present to honor the memory of our heroic dead, to that extent we are teaching loyalty and good citizenship and safeguarding the future of our republic.

"All posts should arrange to have divine memorial services on the Sabbath preceding Memorial Day, and the comrades should attend in a body, if possible.

Cemetery Lot Owners Consider Tree Surgery

Memorial Day will soon be here. If you own a lot in the cemetery, have the trees on it put in good condition. Many splendid trees on private lots need treatment to prevent destruction by decay, and nearly all trees on these lots need pruning. Place your order with us early, and the work will be done by our trained tree surgeons. Consultation free.

GOOD SEED CORN

Secretary A. P. Sandles of the State Board of Agriculture, has sent out warnings to Ohio farmers, showing the evils resulting from planting poor seed corn and having poor drainage.

"Good seed corn and good drainage will confer a blessing and a bank account," says Sandles in his letter to the farmers.

He advises them to build a tile drain every 40 feet through their farms and to test their seed corn.

Sandles is authority for the information that Ohio annually cultivates 3,000,000 acres of corn and points out that, with better drainage methods, 57,000,000 additional bushels of corn could be raised and that $20,000,000 additional wealth could be brought into the state.

THE WILDEST COUNTRY LEFT

Letters received this week from Zane Grey indicate that the author of "The Heritage of the Desert," has some interesting experiences ahead of him. His last letter was dated Flagstaff, Arizona, and is as follows: "I leave here tomorrow for Navajo Mountain. There is only one man who knows the trail and his name is Wetherall. He lives in the Painted Desert about two hundred miles out and his place is the last trading post. I have an old timer in fact, a 'forty-niner' to take me out to Tuba, Oraibi, Red Lake, and then on to Wetherall's. From there the country is exceedingly barren and wild. In fact, my guide says it is the wildest country left in the United States. Two years ago a geological survey man got a Navajo to take him to this mountain, and this trip resulted in the discovery of the wonderful natural bridge that the Navajos worship. Since then only two or three travelers have undertaken the journey. So I expect a hard but wonderful trip. I hope to get out in a month or six weeks."

CONTEST OF THE DISTRICT SCHOOLS FRIDAY EVENING

A large audience was present on Friday evening to hear the oratorical and spelling contests between six of the district schools of the city.

The oratorical contest was first held and the orations were well written and excellently delivered. The judges making the award to Miss Crawford of Itzbron.

In the spelling contest the fortunate school was Jersey. All the schools were well represented.

Three Frazesburg Boys Save Cripple From Watery Grave

For saving Thomas Largent from drowning in the aqueduct near Frazesburg Thursday afternoon, three Frazesburg boys, Jacob Largent, aged 14; William Busby, aged 12, and Samuel Frazier, aged 12, will be recommended to the Carnegie hero commission for hero medals.

Largent is a cripple. A deformity since birth has left him without active use of either limb. Because of his condition it is impossible for him to swim. He was thrown into the water when the log on which he was seated fishing, began rolling towards the stream. He was powerless to help himself. The three lads effected his rescue by throwing poles to him and pulling him ashore.

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother attains nature in its pre-natal work the child finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly helpful to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the child is not safe. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

"KID" KOEHL GETS OVATION

Fred Koehl, the popular pitcher of the Tiffin team, paid this city a visit last evening, accompanied by a gentleman and two lady friends, says the Tiffin Tribune. While enjoying the pictures at the Mystic, Fred was dumbfounded to see his picture, with the appended explanation, "The Mayor of Sycamore," thrown upon the screen. The crowd at once caught on and the popular ball flinger was given a noisy ovation.
